Dear Shri Mehta,

Thank you for your letter of July 24th. I was glad to know that you are interested in Mahatma Gandhi and that a young citizen should be interested in him, because it seems to me that Gandhiji is largely forgotten now in our country. You ask what facet of his life impressed me most. I think the most impressive thing about him was the fact that he lived what he believed, translating every great principle he stood for into daily life and action. He could thus demonstrate the great power of example, and the love and respect in which people held him was due most of all to this. This also is what is so sadly lacking in our public life today.

I am putting a few lines in my own handwriting at the bottom of this letter as requested by you.

With all goodwishes and good luck to you in your career,

Yours sincerely,

Nayantara Sahgal
